

Incorporated Societies Bill

Government Bill

Explanatory note

General policy statement

Introduction

Incorporated societies make a major contribution to civil society in areas such as culture, sport, recreation, education, health, social services, philanthropy, emergency relief, environmental protection, animal protection, and religion. Rūnanga and taura here also operate as incorporated societies, along with civic and advocacy organisations such as trade unions, business and professional associations, political parties, and local interest groups.

There are about 24,000 such entities currently on the Incorporated Societies Register. Together, they make a significant contribution to New Zealanders' well-being.

It is important that the laws governing these entities are complete, accessible, and consistent with the principles of good governance.

Incorporated Societies Act 1908

For over 100 years the Incorporated Societies Act 1908 (the 1908 Act) has enabled community-related organisations to become incorporated for a wide variety of purposes. However, this Act is now out of date and deficient in some respects.

The issues with the 1908 Act, which this Bill seeks to address, were first identified in a report released by the Law Commission titled “A New Act for Incorporated Societies”, published on 21 August 2013. The Commission identified a number of problems with the 1908 Act, which can be broadly categorised as follows:

- the law is incomplete, inaccessible, and unclear:
- the law is inconsistent with incorporated society and governance principles:
- the law is difficult to enforce:
- there are issues with other statutes under which societies operate.

The main problems identified by the Commission are as follows:

- committee members and others taking on responsibilities in incorporated societies have duties that are akin to directors' duties under the Companies Act 1993. These duties are in case law, not in the 1908 Act. As a result, many people who are elected into governance roles do not have a clear understanding of what they have to do to comply with the law:
- the 1908 Act is silent on a number of important governance issues such as dealing with conflicts of interest, personal liability, and the consequences for third parties who deal in good faith with societies that act outside their rules:
- the restructuring options are limited. Unlike the Companies Act 1993, the 1908 Act makes no provision for amalgamations.

Policy to be given effect by Bill

The purpose of this Bill is to put in place a modern framework of basic legal, governance, and accountability obligations for incorporated societies and those who run them.

The regime to be put in place by the Bill is guided by the following broad policy objectives:

- members of a society have the primary responsibility for holding the society to account; and
- a society should promote the trust and confidence of its members; and
- a society should be self-governing; and
- a society should not distribute profits to its members.

While the Bill is a new, stand-alone, statute it does not depart from the underlying principles of the current law on incorporated societies. However, some of this law was not previously contained in the 1908 Act, but has instead built up in case law over time. As a result of this, when the Bill and the 1908 Act are directly compared it can appear that new onerous obligations are being imposed on societies when this is not the case.

In particular, the Bill puts in place 6 broadly expressed duties on the officers of a society (modelled on directors' duties in the Companies Act 1993) as follows:

- officers should act in good faith and in best interests of the relevant society:
- officers must exercise their powers for a proper purpose:
- officers must not act, or agree to the society acting, in a manner that contravenes the Bill or the constitution of the society:
- officers must show the care and diligence that a reasonable person with the same responsibilities would exercise in the same circumstances:
- officers must not let the activities of the society be carried on in a way likely to create a substantial risk of serious loss to the society's creditors:

- officers should not agree to a society incurring an obligation unless they believe that the society will be able to perform the obligation when it is required to do so

While there are no such duties in the 1908 Act, the inclusion of these duties in the Bill codifies existing case law that officers have fiduciary duties to their societies. This will make it clearer to the officers of a society what their duties are.

The Bill also closes certain gaps in the 1908 Act by—

- providing an express mechanism for societies to amalgamate with each other (based on a simplified version of what is included in the Companies Act); and
- including civil law enforcement provisions that clearly state who may apply to a court for orders in respect of a society and the type of orders that the court can make.

Departmental disclosure statement

The Ministry of Business, Innovation, and Employment is required to prepare a disclosure statement to assist with the scrutiny of this Bill. The disclosure statement provides access to information about the policy development of the Bill and identifies any significant or unusual legislative features of the Bill.

A copy of the statement can be found at <http://legislation.govt.nz/disclosure.aspx?type=bill&subtype=government&year=2021&no=15>

Regulatory impact statement and regulatory impact assessment

The Ministry of Business, Innovation, and Employment produced a regulatory impact statement on 5 February 2014 and a regulatory impact assessment on 2 May 2019 to help inform the main policy decisions taken by the Government relating to the contents of this Bill.

Clause by clause analysis

Clause 1 is the Title clause.

Clause 2 provides for most of the Bill to come into force by Order in Council. The reason for the deferred commencement is that regulations need to be made to give effect to some parts of the Bill. It also allows time for societies to prepare for the new law.

Most of the Bill must come into force no later than 18 months after the date on which the Bill receives the Royal assent (the Royal assent date). The Incorporated Societies Act 1908 is repealed no later than 4 years after the Royal assent date. See Schedule 1, which provides for existing societies to reregister under this Bill before the 1908 Act is repealed.

The regulation-making powers in the Bill come into force on the day after the Royal assent date.

Part 1

Preliminary provisions

Clause 3 sets out the purposes of the Bill, which are to—

- provide for the incorporation of societies that are not carried on for the financial gain of their members; and
- promote high-quality governance of societies; and
- make the law of societies more accessible; and
- recognise the principles that—
 - members have the primary responsibility for holding a society to account; and
 - a society should promote the trust and confidence of its members; and
 - a society should be self-governing; and
 - a society should not distribute profits to its members.

Clause 4 sets out the overview of the Bill.

Clause 5 defines terms used in the Bill.

Clause 6 provides for transitional, savings, and related provisions in Schedule 1.

Clause 7 provides for the Bill to bind the Crown.

Part 2

Incorporation of societies

Eligibility

Clause 8 sets out the following key eligibility criteria for a society:

- it must have 10 or more members; and
- it must have a lawful purpose other than being carried on for the financial gain of its members.

Application for incorporation

Clause 9 provides for an application for incorporation of a society.

Clause 10 gives the Registrar of Incorporated Societies (the Registrar) a discretion about the nature and extent of the consideration that the Registrar gives to an application. The fact that the Registrar registers a society does not prevent the Registrar from reconsidering whether requirements are met (for example, the Registrar may consider at any time whether a society's constitution meets the requirements of the Bill).

Clause 11 sets out requirements for a society's name. In particular, the name cannot be the same as the name of another entity and it cannot be offensive.

Clauses 12 and 13 provide that incorporation must be refused if—

- a society's proposed purposes are unlawful or include a purpose of being carried on for the financial gain for its members; or
- a society's proposed constitution does not comply with the Bill.

Clause 14 provides that if a company or other body corporate is a member of a society, it counts as 3 members for the purposes of the rule that a society must have at least 10 members.

Incorporation

Clauses 15 to 17 provide for a society to be incorporated as a body corporate (that is, it has separate legal personality from its members). The society exists on and from the date on its certificate of incorporation until it is removed from the register of incorporated societies (the register).

Part 3

Administration of societies

Subpart 1—Capacity, powers, and validity of actions

Clause 18 provides a society with full legal capacity to carry out its activities together with full rights, powers, and privileges for that purpose. However, this is subject to the Bill and the general law and to any restrictions in its constitution.

Clause 19 provides that an action is not invalid merely because the society does not have the capacity, right, or power to do the act.

Clause 20 provides that a society may not assert certain matters against a third party who enters into a transaction or otherwise deals with the society. For example, that the society has not complied with the Bill or its constitution or that an officer does not have a power that an officer would ordinarily have authority to exercise. However, a matter may be asserted if the third party knew, or should have known, of the matter.

Clause 21 states that a person does not have knowledge of the constitution merely because it is registered on the register of incorporated societies.

Subpart 2—Financial gain

This subpart contains the basic rule that a society must not be carried on for the financial gain of any of its members.

Clause 22 provides that an officer of a society commits an offence if the society breaches this rule with the officer's authority, permission, or consent. The offence has a maximum fine of $50,000.

In addition,—

- court action can be taken to recover a financial gain under subpart 4 of Part 4; and
- a breach of the rule may result in the society being put into liquidation.

Clauses 23 and 24 set out criteria for determining when the rule is breached.

Subpart 3—Constitution

This subpart requires every society to have a constitution (clause 25). The subpart sets out—

- the matters that a constitution must contain and the matters that it may contain (clauses 26 to 28); and
- the effect of the constitution. It is binding on the society and its members, but is of no effect if it is inconsistent with the Bill (clause 29); and
- how amendments are made (clauses 30 to 37). Amendments can be made in a number of ways, including by approval at a general meeting of the society (whether by a simple majority or a higher percentage specified in the constitution) or by a court order; and
- matters relating to dealing with complaints and grievances (clauses 38 and 39).

Subpart 4—Committee and officers

Committee

Clauses 40 to 44—

- require a society to have a committee manage the operation and affairs of the society. The committee comprises 3 or more members who are officers:
- set out the qualifications of officers. To be an officer, a person must be a member of the society and a natural person (that is, not a body corporate) and must not be disqualified under various grounds (for example, being an undischarged bankrupt):
- allow the Registrar to waive various factors that would otherwise disqualify a person from being a member.

Officer ceasing to hold office

Clause 45 provides for when an officer ceases to hold office (including by resignation, by being removed under the constitution, and by becoming disqualified).

Clause 46 provides for an officer to remain liable for past acts, omissions, or decisions when the officer vacates office.

Notice of appointment and of other changes

Clause 47 requires a society to notify the Registrar when an officer is appointed.

Validity of acts

Clause 48 provides for an officer's acts to be valid even though the officer's appointment was defective.

Officers' duties

Clauses 49 to 54 set out the officers' duties. These are similar to the duties of a director under the Companies Act 1993. These duties are owed to the society (rather than the members) under clause 56. The duties include—

- acting in good faith and in the best interests of the society:
- exercising powers for a proper purpose:
- not acting, nor agreeing to the society acting, in a manner that contravenes the Bill or the constitution:
- acting with reasonable care and diligence. The Companies Act 1993 sets a higher standard of also requiring reasonable skill:
- avoiding creating substantial risk of serious loss to creditors:
- not agreeing to the society incurring an obligation unless the officer believes on reasonable grounds that the society will be able to perform the obligation.

Clause 55 provides for an officer to use and rely on certain information.

Conflict of interest disclosure rules

Clauses 57 to 67 provide for—

- a duty for officers to disclose if they have a personal interest in a matter relating to the society (for example, if the officer or a close relative may obtain a financial benefit from a transaction entered into by the society):
- the consequences of being interested in a matter (in particular, the officer may not vote on the matter):
- the committee to notify the members if an officer has failed to disclose an interest or has voted on the matter despite being interested. The society may then avoid a transaction (unless the society receives fair value under the transaction):
- innocent third parties (without knowledge of a breach) to be protected if a transaction is avoided:
- a register of disclosures to be maintained.

Subpart 5—Members

Clause 68 requires a society to have at least 10 members.

Clause 69 allows the Registrar to require a society to increase its membership if it has fewer than 10 members. If the membership is not increased, the society may be removed from the register or put into liquidation.

Clause 70 requires a person to consent to being a member.

Clause 71 confirms that membership gives a person no legal rights to a society's property.

Clause 72 confirms that membership does not make a person liable for a society's debts.

Clause 73 requires a society to keep a register of its members.

Access to information for members

Clauses 74 to 77 give members a right to request information from the society. The society may refuse a request if, for example, withholding the information is necessary to protect a person's privacy, disclosure would prejudice the commercial position of the society or another person, or the request is frivolous or vexatious.

General meetings

Clauses 78 to 82—

- require every society to call an annual general meeting:
- require an annual report and financial statements to be presented at the annual general meeting:
- provide for how general meetings are held:
- require members' rights of access to financial statements and the minutes of general meetings.

Resolutions in lieu of meeting

Clauses 83 to 86 allow a society to pass a resolution in lieu of holding a general meeting. To be effective, the resolution must be signed by no less than 75% of the members who are entitled to vote.

Subpart 6—Indemnities or insurance for officers, members, or employees of society

This subpart allows a society to indemnify or effect insurance for an officer, a member, or an employee only in accordance with the subpart. An indemnity includes relieving, exempting, or excusing a person from liability. Generally speaking, a society cannot give an indemnity for criminal liability or where a person acts in bad faith. It cannot effect insurance for criminal liability.

Clause 88 clarifies that the subpart does not prevent a society from indemnifying or effecting insurance for an individual in their capacity as an employee of a third person.

Subpart 7—Accounting records, financial reporting, and annual returns

This subpart requires—

- accounting records to be kept. The records must correctly record transactions and allow the society to prepare financial statements:
- financial statements to be prepared for each accounting period:
- an annual return to be registered. This does not apply to a charitable entity, which instead must prepare an annual return under the Charities Act 2005.

If a society is required to prepare financial statements under the Charities Act 2005 or the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013, it must comply with that other Act rather than this Bill.

Subpart 8—Other administration matters

Registered office

Clauses 103 and 104 require every society to have a registered office in New Zealand and to notify the Registrar of any change.

Contact person

Clauses 105 to 109 require a society to have at least 1 person whom the Registrar may contact about matters relating to the society.

Name of society

Clause 110 allows a society to change its name (subject to the name complying with clause 11).

Clause 112 allows the Registrar to require a society to change its name if the Registrar considers that the name does not comply with clause 11.

Clause 113 provides that a change in name does not effect a society's rights or duties.

Clause 114 requires a society to ensure that its name is clearly stated in written communications and in contracts and other documents that create legal obligations.

Clause 115 allows a society to use an abbreviation in its name.

Authority to bind society

Clause 116 provide for how a society may enter into contracts and other binding obligations.

Clause 117 provides for how a society may appoint an attorney to act on its behalf. The acts of the attorney bind the society if the attorney acts in accordance with the document that appointed the attorney.

Service of documents on society

Clause 118 provides for how documents may be served on a society.

Part 4

Enforcement

This Part—

- allows a court to make certain orders to support the purposes of this Bill:
- allows for a society to recover a financial gain obtained in contravention of the Bill:
- provides for offences.

Subpart 1—Court orders enforcing society’s constitution or bylaws

This subpart allows a court to make various orders to enforce a society’s constitution or bylaws (for example, directing a person to comply with the constitution or stopping a society from acting contrary to the constitution). The subpart also allows the court to intervene in relation to complaints and grievances that are being dealt with under the constitution (for example, where there has been a breach of natural justice).

An application for an order may be made by the society, a member, a former member, or the Registrar.

Subpart 2—Court orders enforcing officers’ duties

This subpart allows a court to make various orders to enforce the officer’s duties. See clauses 49 to 56. The orders include restraining an officer from acting in a manner contrary to their duties or an order to compensate the society.

An application may be made by the society or the Registrar. The subpart also allows the court to grant leave to allow a member or an officer to apply or intervene in a proceeding on behalf of the society.

Subpart 3—Prejudiced members

This subpart allows the court to make various orders where a society has been carried on in a manner that is oppressive, unfairly discriminatory, or unfairly prejudicial to a member or former member. The orders include an order to compensate the member or former member or an order to regulate the future conduct of the society.

Subpart 4—Financial gain

This subpart allows a society to recover a financial gain that has been obtained by a member or former member in breach of subpart 2 of Part 3.

The subpart allows a member or an officer to apply or intervene in a proceeding on behalf of the society.

Subpart 5—Miscellaneous provisions relating to applications

This subpart provides for the Registrar to apply only if the Registrar considers that it is in the public interest to do so. In considering this, the Registrar must have regard to certain matters, including—

- the principles that members have the primary responsibility for holding societies to account and societies are private bodies that should be self-governing; and
- whether making the application is an efficient and effective use of the Registrar’s resources; and
- the extent to which the matter involves matters of general significance or importance in terms of promoting high-quality governance of societies; and
- whether the society receives public funding or there is otherwise a significant public interest in the governance of the society.

The subpart also gives the court the power to refuse to consider applications for orders (for example, where the application is frivolous or vexatious or otherwise not in the public interest).

Subpart 6—Offences

This subpart provides for various offences relating to, for example,—

- an officer dishonestly using that position for personal gain:
- false statements:
- fraudulently using or destroying a society’s property:
- falsifying a register, records, or documents:
- knowingly being a party to a society operating with intent to defraud the creditors of the society or any other person or for a fraudulent purpose:
- improperly using the words “Incorporated”, “Inc”, or “Manatōpu”:
- breaching a banning order.

The subpart also provides for infringement offences for more minor matters. The infringement fee for these offences is an amount not exceeding $1,000 or a fine not exceeding $3,000.

Subpart 7—Banning order

This subpart allows a court to ban a person from being an officer or from being involved in the management of a society. An order can be made if, for example, the person has—

- been convicted of a serious offence; or
- persistently failed to comply with the Bill; or
- been guilty of fraud in relation to the society or of a breach of duty to the society; or
- acted in a reckless or an incompetent manner.

Part 5

Removal from register, amalgamation, liquidation, and other processes

Subpart 1—Removal from register

This subpart provides for a society to be removed from the register. A society ceases to exist once it is removed.

Clause 168 sets out the grounds for removal. These include the following:

- the society requests removal under clause 169;
- the society is no longer operating and there is no proper reason for it to continue to exist;
- the society's constitution does not comply with the Bill in a material way;
- the society or its officers have failed in a persistent or serious way to comply with duties under the Bill;
- the society has been liquidated.

Procedural requirements before removal

Clauses 170 to 175 provide for procedural matters relating to a removal. These include—

- the Registrar giving notice of a removal;
- the Registrar giving the public an opportunity to object to a removal and providing for how the Registrar must deal with objections;
- allowing a court to order that a society must not be removed.

Clause 176 provides that an officer's or a member's liability continues after the removal.

Restoration to register

Clauses 177 to 183 provide for a society to be restored to the register. In summary,—

- the Registrar may restore the society if certain grounds exist. These include that the grounds for the removal did not exist or the society was operating at the time of its removal and there is a proper reason for it to continue to exist;
- the Registrar must give notice of an intention to restore a society and give an opportunity to object;
- the court may also restore a society to the register. The court's powers to restore include where, for any reason, it is just and equitable that the society be restored to the register;
- the court may give directions or make orders to help place the society in as nearly as possible in the same position as if it had not been removed from the register.

Subpart 2—Amalgamations

This subpart allows 2 or more societies to amalgamate and continue as 1 society.

Clauses 185 and 186 provide for an amalgamation proposal to be sent to members and creditors and for the proposal to be publicly notified.

Clauses 187 to 189 provide for the committee of each amalgamating society to approve the proposal. The proposal may be approved only if it is in the best interests of each society and the amalgamated society will be solvent.

Clauses 190 to 195 provide for the Registrar to register the amalgamation. The Registrar can refuse to proceed on various grounds, for example, where the purposes or the constitution of the amalgamated society will not comply with the Bill.

Clause 196 provides for the effect of amalgamation. In particular, the amalgamated society succeeds to all the property, liabilities, rights, and powers of the amalgamating societies.

Clauses 197 and 198 provide for changes to registers relating to the amalgamation.

Clause 199 allows a court to make certain orders to stop or modify an amalgamation if a creditor or other person may be unfairly prejudiced by a proposed amalgamation.

Subpart 3—Compromises with creditors

Clause 200 allows a society to enter into a compromise with its creditors in accordance with Part 14 of the Companies Act 1993. A compromise approved by creditors under that Part is binding on the society and on the creditors to whom notice of the proposed compromise is given.

Subpart 4—Liquidation

Members may resolve to put society into liquidation

Clause 201 provides for the members to put a society into liquidation by passing a resolution under subpart 6. Under clause 202, Part 16 of the Companies Act 1993 applies to the liquidation.

High Court may put society into liquidation

Clauses 203 to 206 provide for the High Court to put a society into liquidation. These provisions—

- set out the grounds for putting a society into liquidation. These include, for example, where the society suspends its operations for 1 year or more, the society is unable to pay its debts, or it is otherwise just and equitable that the society should be put into liquidation:
- allow the society itself, a member, a creditor, or the Registrar to apply to the High Court to appoint a liquidator:
- apply Part 16 of the Companies Act 1993 to the liquidation.

Subpart 5—Other matters relating to removal or liquidation of society

This subpart applies when a society is removed from the register or is in liquidation. The subpart is designed to help facilitate the removal or liquidation. In particular, it provides for the distribution of a society's surplus assets after all costs, debts, and liabilities are paid.

Clause 208 sets out who can act under this subpart. This includes a liquidator or, in the case of a removal, a person authorised by the Registrar. The society itself may act if the society is distributing its surplus assets to enable the society to request to be removed from the register.

Clause 209 sets out the rules for distributing the surplus assets of the society after the payment of all of its costs, debts, and liabilities. The surplus assets may only be distributed to not-for-profit entities. The rules provide for distribution—

- to 1 or more not-for-profit entities identified in the society's constitution; or
- in the manner specified in a resolution approved by members under subpart 6; or
- as the Registrar directs.

Clause 210 allows a resolution to be passed to provide for the distribution of surplus assets even though the society has ceased to exist (because it has been removed from the register).

Clause 211 sets out when a distribution must not be made under the constitution.

Clause 212 provides that a person acting under the subpart is only required to make reasonable inquiries for the purpose of identifying not-for-profit entities to which a distribution may be made.

Clause 213 gives a person who is authorised by the Registrar to act an immunity for good faith actions.

Clause 214 gives the Registrar broad powers to give directions to facilitate the removal or liquidation.

Clause 215 provides for how distributions are made if further assets are discovered sometime after the surplus assets are distributed.

Clause 216 provides for directions relating to land.

Clause 217 provides that a decision of the Registrar under this subpart may not be appealed.

Subpart 6—Procedure for resolutions

This subpart provides for how a society may pass any of the following:

- a resolution authorising a member to request that the society be removed from the register:
- a resolution providing for the distribution of a society's surplus assets (on its removal or liquidation):

- a resolution to appoint a liquidator of a society.

Part 6

Register, regulations, amendments, and other miscellaneous provisions

Subpart 1—Register of incorporated societies

Register established

Clause 222 establishes the register of incorporated societies (the register). The register provides information to the public about societies and assists the Registrar and other people to perform functions under the Bill and other Acts (see clause 223). Amendments to the register may be made under clause 226.

Clause 224 sets out the contents of this register. They include the constitution for each society, the names of its offices, its registered office, and its financial statements.

Clause 225 allows the Registrar to remove information from the register or to restrict public access. This is similar to a provision in the Charities Act 2005.

Clause 227 allows the Registrar to set requirements for how information must be registered. The Registrar may refuse to register information if these requirements are not complied with.

Searches of register

Clauses 228 to 230 provide for searches of the register.

Registrar of Incorporated Societies

Clauses 231 to 234 provide for the Registrar of Incorporated Societies to be appointed, for the functions of the Registrar, and a power to delegate functions, powers, and duties.

Registrar's powers of inspection

Clause 235 gives the Registrar (or an authorised person) certain inspection powers. The Registrar may exercise the powers for the purpose of ascertaining whether officers and societies are complying with the Bill, ascertaining whether to exercise a power, or ascertaining whether there has been a contravention of the Bill. The powers include requiring any person to produce for inspection documents that contain information about a society (see clause 236). A person commits an offence if they fail to comply or if they obstruct or hinder the Registrar (see clauses 236 and 237). These offences have a maximum fine of $10,000.

Clause 238 provides that an authorised person may disclose information only in accordance with certain rules.

Clause 239 provides for an authorised person's report to be admissible as evidence in court proceedings.

Appeals against Registrar's decisions

Clause 240 allows most acts or decisions of the Registrar under the Bill to be appealed to a District Court. This appeal right does not apply to decisions to take certain enforcement actions under Part 4 or to decisions about the distribution of a society's surplus assets when it is removed from the register or is liquidated.

An appeal relating to the Registrar's inspection powers does not prevent the Registrar from continuing to exercise those powers (see clause 241).

Sharing of information relating to charitable entities

Clause 242 provides for the Registrar and the chief executive under the Charities Act 2005 to share information relating to charities (to assist with the performance of their respective functions).

Subpart 2—Jurisdiction

Clause 243 provides for the power of the District Court to deal with matters under the Bill. In addition to hearing appeals against the Registrar's decisions, the District Court can deal with applications for orders if, for example, the amount claimed or the value of the property in dispute does not exceed $350,000 (or no amount is claimed and there is no property in dispute).

Clause 244 gives the High Court power to deal with any applications for orders under the Bill and to hear appeals that arise from proceedings in the District Court.

Subpart 3—Regulations

This subpart allows regulations to be made for various purposes. These include, for example,—

- prescribing the manner in which applications for incorporation must be made; and
- prescribing procedures, requirements, and other matters for the register of incorporated societies; and
- prescribing fees and other amounts payable to the Registrar; and
- specifying matters for the purposes of subpart 4; and
- prescribing transitional and savings provisions to facilitate an orderly transition to this Act (see also Schedule 1).

Subpart 4—Conversion of entities into incorporated societies

This subpart provides for a body corporate or other association that is formed or incorporated by or under another Act to apply to be reregistered as an incorporated society under this Bill.

This power applies only if the other Act is specified in regulations made under clause 245(1)(o). Regulations may also—

- specify preconditions that must be met for an entity to reregister; and

- specify terms and conditions that must be complied with after an entity has reregistered.

The power to specify terms and conditions will help to ensure that any ongoing duties or requirements imposed by the other Act can be preserved. Clause 249 provides for the court to enforce those terms and conditions. The Registrar may also remove a society from the register if it fails to comply with those terms and conditions.

Schedule 3 sets out matters relating to the process for reregistration.

Subpart 5—Amendments to Charitable Trusts Act 1957

This subpart amends the Charitable Trusts Act 1957 (the 1957 Act). The main effect of the changes is described as follows:

- after clause 252 comes into force, a society may longer apply to be incorporated as a board under the 1957 Act. Instead, an application for the incorporation of a society may be made under this Bill (trustees of a trust may continue to apply for incorporation as a board under the 1957 Act);
- an existing society that is incorporated as a board under the 1957 Act may continue to be subject to the 1957 Act indefinitely if it so chooses. Alternatively, the existing society may choose to reregister as a society under the Bill.

Subpart 6—Repeal, revocation, and consequential amendments

This subpart provides for—

- the repeal of the Incorporated Societies Act 1908 (the 1908 Act); and
- the revocation of the Incorporated Societies Regulations 1979; and
- amendments to other Acts.

Schedule 1 provides for transitional provisions. In particular, the schedule sets out how existing societies under the 1908 Act or the 1957 Act become societies under the Bill.

The transitional process for incorporated societies is summarised as follows:

- the society continues to be subject to the 1908 Act until it reregisters under the Bill or until the transition date, which is the later of—
 - 1 December 2025; and
 - the date that is 2 years and 6 months after the commencement of certain transitional provisions;
- during the period before the transition date, the society can amend its rules and make other arrangements to facilitate a transition to becoming a society under the Bill;
- the society may apply to be reregistered under the Bill before the transition date. The society will be reregistered if it meets the requirements for incorporation under the Bill;

- the 1908 Act is intended to be finally repealed on the transition date. If a society is not reregistered under this Bill, the society will cease to exist. It may be restored to the register in accordance with the Bill. But if the society is not restored, its surplus assets must be distributed under the Bill.

The transitional process for the 1957 Act is summarised as follows:

- no new societies may be registered under that Act;
- existing societies may choose to register under this Bill or may continue to be subject to the 1957 Act indefinitely.

Schedule 2 sets out disputes procedures that are presumed to be consistent with the rules of natural justice. A society is not required to include these procedures in its constitution. However, if it does include consistent procedures, those procedures are presumed to be consistent with the rules of natural justice.

Schedule 3 sets out the procedure for allowing an entity that is formed or incorporated by or under another Act to convert into an incorporated society.

Schedule 4 sets out amendments to other Acts.

51	Officers must comply with Act and constitution
	An officer must not act, or agree to the society acting, in a manner that contravenes this Act or the constitution of the society.	20
	Compare: 1993 No 105 s 134
52	Officer's duty of care
	An officer, when exercising powers or performing duties as an officer, must exercise the care and diligence that a reasonable person with the same responsibilities would exercise in the same circumstances, taking into account, but without limitation,—	25
	(a) the nature of the society; and
	(b) the nature of the decision; and
	(c) the position of the officer and the nature of the responsibilities undertaken by them.	30

53	Duty relating to activities that create substantial risk of serious loss to creditors

- (b) cause or allow the activities of the society to be carried on in a manner likely to create a substantial risk of serious loss to the society's creditors.

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 135

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 136

55 Use of information and advice

- (1) An officer, when exercising powers or performing duties as an officer, may rely on reports, statements, and financial data and other information prepared or supplied, and on professional or expert advice given, by any of the following persons: 10

(a) an employee of the society whom the officer believes on reasonable grounds to be reliable and competent in relation to the matters concerned: 15

Conflict of interest disclosure rules

57 When officer has interest

- (1) An officer (A) is interested in a matter if A— 35

(a) may obtain a financial benefit from the matter; or

- (b) is the spouse, civil union partner, de facto partner, child, parent, grandparent, grandchild, or first cousin of a person who may obtain a financial benefit from the matter; or
 - (c) may have a financial interest in a person to whom the matter relates; or
 - (d) is a partner, director, officer, board member, or trustee of a person who may have a financial interest in a person to whom the matter relates; or 5
 - (e) may be interested in the matter because the society’s constitution so provides.
- (2) However, A is not interested in a matter—
- (a) merely because A receives an indemnity, insurance cover, remuneration, or other benefits authorised under this Act; or 10
 - (b) if A’s interest is the same or substantially the same as the benefit or interest of all or most other members of the society due to the membership of those members; or
 - (c) if A’s interest is so remote or insignificant that it cannot reasonably be regarded as likely to influence A in carrying out A’s responsibilities under this Act or the society’s constitution. 15
- (3) In this section and sections 58 to 60, matter means—
- (a) a society’s performance of its activities or exercise of its powers; or
 - (b) an arrangement, an agreement, or a contract (a transaction) made or entered into, or proposed to be entered into, by the society. 20

Compare: 2004 No 115 s 62

58 Duty to disclose interest

- (1) An officer who is interested in a matter relating to the society must disclose details of the nature and extent of the interest (including any monetary value of the interest if it can be quantified)— 25
- (a) to the committee; and
 - (b) in an interests register kept by the committee.
- (2) Disclosure under subsection (1) must be made as soon as practicable after the officer becomes aware that they are interested in the matter. 30

Compare: 2004 No 115 ss 63, 65

59 Consequences of being interested in matter

- (1) A member of the committee who is interested in a matter relating to a society—
- (a) must not vote or take part in a decision of the committee relating to the matter; and 35
 - (b) must not sign any document relating to the entry into a transaction or the initiation of the matter; but

- (c) may take part in any discussion of the committee relating to the matter and be present at the time of the decision of the committee (unless the committee decides otherwise).
- (2) However,—
- (a) a member of the committee who is prevented from voting on a matter under subsection (1) may still be counted for the purpose of determining whether there is a quorum at any meeting at which the matter is considered; and 5
- (b) subsection (1)(a) or (b) does not apply to a member of the committee (A) in relation to a particular matter if all members of the committee who are not interested in the matter consent to A acting as referred to in that paragraph. 10
- (3) Despite subsection (2), if 50% or more of the members of the committee are prevented from voting on the matter under subsection (1), a special general meeting of the society must be called to consider and determine the matter. 15
- Compare: 2004 No 115 s 66

60 Consequences of failing to disclose interest

- (1) The committee must, in the manner prescribed by the regulations (if any), notify the members of the society of a failure to comply with section 58 or 59, and of any transactions affected, as soon as practicable after becoming aware of the failure. 20
- (2) A failure to comply with section 58 or 59 does not affect the validity of an act or a matter.
- (3) However, subsection (2) does not limit the right of any person to apply for judicial review. 25
- Compare: 2004 No 115 s 67

61 Regulations may provide for how members are notified

- (1) Regulations made for the purposes of section 60(1) may, but do not need to, require every member to be notified.
- (2) The regulations may instead require notification to be made to members as a group (for example, by way of a notice on an Internet site that is reasonably accessible to the members generally). 30

62 Avoidance of transactions

- (1) A transaction entered into by the society in which an officer of the society is interested may be avoided by the society at any time before the expiry of 3 months after the transaction is notified under section 60(1). 35
- (2) However, a transaction cannot be avoided if the society receives fair value under it (see section 63).

- (3) A transaction in which an officer is interested can only be avoided on the ground of the officer’s interest in accordance with this section.

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 141(1), (2), (6)

63 What is fair value

- (1) For the purposes of section 62, whether a society receives fair value under a transaction is determined on the basis of the information known to the society and to the interested officer at the time the transaction is entered into. 5

- (2) If a transaction is entered into by the society in the ordinary course of its activities and on usual terms and conditions, the society is presumed to receive fair value under the transaction. 10

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 141(3), (4)

64 Onus of proving fair value

- (1) A person who is seeking to uphold a transaction and who knew or ought to have known of the officer’s interest at the time the transaction was entered into has the onus of establishing fair value. 15

- (2) In any other case, the society has the onus of establishing that it did not receive fair value.

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 141(5)

65 Effect on third parties

The avoidance of a transaction under section 62 does not affect the title or interest of a person to or in property that the person has acquired if the property was acquired— 20

- (a) from a person other than the society; and
- (b) for valuable consideration; and
- (c) without knowledge of the circumstances of the transaction under which the person referred to in paragraph (a) acquired the property from the society. 25

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 142

66 Application of provisions in case of certain payments, indemnities given, or insurance provided 30

Sections 58 to 62 do not apply in relation to—

- (a) a salary, wages, or other payments paid to an officer as referred to in section 24(1)(e); or
- (b) an indemnity given or insurance provided in accordance with subpart 6. 35

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 143

67 Interests register

- (1) The committee must keep and maintain a register of disclosures made by officers under section 58 (an interests register).
- (2) The interests register must be made available for inspection by the officers of the society at any reasonable time.

Subpart 5—Members

68 Society must have at least 10 members

- (1) A society must continue to have at least 10 members.
- (2) An act of a society or the transfer of property to or by a society is not invalid merely because the society does not have at least 10 members.

69 Registrar may act if society has fewer than 10 members

- (1) The Registrar may, if the Registrar is satisfied that a society has fewer than 10 members, give the society written notice—
 - (a) requiring it to increase its membership in order to comply with section 68; and
 - (b) informing it that, if the society does not comply with that section within 6 months after the date of the notice, the Registrar may—
 - (i) apply to the High Court to put the society into liquidation; or
 - (ii) remove the society from the register under subpart 1 of Part 5.
- (2) The Registrar may, if the society does not comply with section 68 at the end of the 6-month period after the date of the notice,—
 - (a) make an application under section 205; or
 - (b) act under subpart 1 of Part 5.

15

20

70 Consent to become member

- (1) A person must consent to become a member of a society.
- (2) The consent of a body corporate (A) to become a member of a society may be given on A's behalf by 2 directors of A, or, if A has only 1 director, by that director (and, for this purpose, director has the same meaning as in section 5(1) of the Financial Reporting Act 2013).

71 Members have no right to property of society

Membership of a society does not confer upon a member any right, title, or interest, either legal or equitable, in the property of the society.

30

Compare: 1908 No 212 s 14

72 Liability of members

- (1) A member is not liable for an obligation of a society by reason only of being a member.
- (2) The liability of a person to a society in their capacity as a member is limited to— 5
 - (a) any amount unpaid on the membership of the member:
 - (b) any liability as a member expressly provided for in the society’s constitution.
- (3) Nothing in this section affects the liability of a member of a society to the society under a contract, or for any tort, breach of a fiduciary duty, or other actionable wrong committed by the member. 10

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 97

73 Register of members

- (1) Every society must keep a register of its members.
- (2) The register must contain— 15
 - (a) the name of each member; and
 - (b) the last known contact details of each member; and
 - (c) the date on which each person became a member; and
 - (d) all other information prescribed by the regulations (if any).
- (3) Every society must update its register of members as soon as practicable after becoming aware of changes to the information recorded on the register. 20

Compare: 1908 No 212 s 22

Access to information for members

74 Information for members

- (1) A member may at any time make a written request to a society for information held by the society. 25
- (2) The request must specify the information sought in sufficient detail to enable it to be identified.
- (3) The society must, within a reasonable time after receiving a request,— 30
 - (a) provide the information; or
 - (b) agree to provide the information within a specified period; or
 - (c) agree to provide the information within a specified period if the member pays a reasonable charge to the society (which must be specified and explained) to meet the cost of providing the information; or
 - (d) refuse to provide the information, specifying the reasons for the refusal. 35

- (4) Nothing in this section or section 75 or 76 limits information privacy principle 6 set out in section 22 of the Privacy Act 2020.

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 178(1)–(3)

75 Grounds for refusing request

- (1) A society may refuse to provide the information if— 5
- (a) withholding the information is necessary to protect the privacy of natural persons, including that of deceased natural persons; or
 - (b) the disclosure of the information would, or would be likely to, prejudice the commercial position of the society or of any of its members; or
 - (c) the disclosure of the information would, or would be likely to, prejudice the commercial position of any other person, whether or not that person supplied the information to the society; or 10
 - (d) the information is not relevant to the operation or affairs of the society; or
 - (e) the request for the information is frivolous or vexatious. 15
- (2) This section does not limit the reasons for which a society may refuse to provide the information.

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 178(4)

76 Member may withdraw request if there is charge for information

If the society requires the member to pay a charge for the information, the member may withdraw the request, and must be treated as having done so unless, within 10 working days after receiving notification of the charge, the member informs the society— 20

- (a) that the member will pay the charge; or
- (b) that the member considers the charge to be unreasonable. 25

Compare: 1993 No 105 s 178(5)

77 Court orders relating to information

- (1) A court may, on the application of a member who has made a request for information under section 74, make an order under this section if it is satisfied that— 30
- (a) the period specified for providing the information is unreasonable; or
 - (b) the charge set by the society is unreasonable; or
 - (c) the society does not have sufficient reason to refuse to supply the information; or
 - (d) the society has sufficient reason to refuse to supply the information but other reasons exist that outweigh the refusal. 35

- (2) The order is an order requiring the society to supply the information within the time or on payment of the charge that the court thinks fit.
- (3) The court may also specify in the order—
 - (a) the use that may be made of the information; and

- (3) The society must—
 - (a) hold the meeting on the date on which it is called to be held and in accordance with its constitution; and
 - (b) ensure that minutes of the meeting are kept.
- (4) If a society is a union or is of a kind prescribed by the regulations, the society’s constitution may provide that a right to attend an annual meeting applies only to delegates or other representatives of members (rather than to all members). 20

79 Irregularities in calling meeting

- (1) An irregularity in the manner of calling a general meeting of a society is waived if all the members entitled to attend and vote at the meeting attend the meeting without protest as to the irregularity, or if all such members agree to the waiver. 25
- (2) An accidental omission to give notice of a meeting to, or a failure to receive notice of a meeting by, a member does not invalidate the proceedings at that meeting. 30
- (3) Subsection (2) is subject to the constitution of the society.

 - (c) as far as is reasonably practicable, that the proposed resolution is sent under paragraph (b) on the circulation date; and 15
 - (d) that a proposed resolution sent under paragraph (b) is accompanied by a statement of the effect of subsection (2).
- (2) A proposed resolution lapses if it is not passed under section 83 within 3 months (or any shorter period provided in the constitution) after the circulation date. 20

86 Society must send copy of passed resolution in lieu to certain members

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), the Registrar must have regard to the matters provided for in the society’s constitution under section 26(1)(l). 15

Example

However, it is discovered 10 years later that another piece of land is still in A’s name. 20

Given the lapse of time since A was removed from the register, the Registrar considers that it is impracticable to dispose of the land under section 209. Therefore, the Registrar decides to dispose of the land by a direction under this section.

- (c) to appoint a liquidator of a society.

219 Notice of resolutions

- (1) The committee of the society must ensure that written notice of the resolution is sent to every member of the society at least 20 working days before the general meeting at which the resolution is to be submitted. 10
- (2) The notice must be sent to an address for the member and otherwise in accordance with the society’s constitution.
- (3) The notice must state— 15
 - (a) the time and place of the meeting; and

 - (c) the text of the resolution to be submitted to the meeting; and 20
 - (d) the right of a member to appoint a proxy (if allowed by the society’s constitution); and
 - (e) in the case of a resolution for the purpose of section 209(1)(c), a statement confirming that the committee has had regard to the purposes of the society under section 221; and 25
 - (f) any other information required by the society’s constitution.
- (4) In this section, address, of a person (A), means—
 - (a) the address (including an electronic address) specified by A for the relevant purpose; or

 - (b) in the case of a resolution for the purposes of section 209,—
 - (i) it results in reasonable certainty about the distribution of surplus assets to 1 or more not-for-profit entities; and 5
 - (ii) all procedural requirements prescribed by the regulations (if any) are satisfied; and
 - (c) all other procedural requirements of the society’s constitution are satisfied (for example, a constitution may require the resolution to be confirmed at a subsequent general meeting). 10
- (2) An accidental omission to send a notice under section 219 to, or a failure to receive such a notice by, a member of a society does not invalidate the resolution.
- 221 Additional requirement for resolution providing for distribution of surplus assets 15
- (1) This section applies to a resolution for the purposes of section 209(1)(c).
 - (2) The committee of the society must, in considering the not-for-profit entity or entities to which it is proposed that the surplus assets will be distributed in accordance with the resolution, have regard to the purposes of the society. 20
 - (3) See also section 210 (which provides for how a resolution may be passed after the society has been removed).

Part 1

Process for existing societies to become societies under this Act 5

1 Purpose

The purpose of this Part is to provide for an existing society to become a society under the Incorporated Societies Act 2021.

2 Overview

- (1) Clause 4 prevents new societies from applying for incorporation under the Incorporated Societies Act 1908 (the 1908 Act). 10
- (2) The general scheme and effect of the transitional provisions for a society that is already incorporated under the 1908 Act is as follows:

- (a) the society continues to be subject to the 1908 Act until it reregisters as a society under this Act or until the transition date, which is the later of—
- (i) 1 December 2025; and
 - (ii) the date that is 2 years and 6 months after the commencement of clause 4: 5
- (b) during the period before the transition date, the society can amend its rules and make other arrangements to facilitate a transition to becoming a society under this Act. This includes ensuring that—
- (i) the society’s proposed constitution will comply with the requirements of this Act; and 10
 - (ii) the society’s officers are qualified to be appointed under section 42:
- (c) the society may apply to be reregistered as a society under this Act before the transition date. The society will be reregistered if it meets the requirements for incorporation under this Act: 15

7 Reregistration

- (1) The Registrar must, as soon as practicable after receiving a properly completed application for reregistration of an existing society,—
 - (a) enter the society's name in the register (together with any other information relating to the society that the Registrar thinks appropriate); and 15
 - (b) issue a certificate of incorporation (which must specify the date of reregistration); and
 - (c) register the society's constitution.
- (2) However, the Registrar may refuse to reregister the society for any of the grounds referred to in sections 8 and 11 to 13 (and, for that purpose, those sections and sections 10 and 14 apply with all necessary modifications as if the application for reregistration were an application for incorporation). 20
- (3) A certificate of incorporation of an existing society issued under this section is conclusive evidence that—
 - (a) all the requirements of this Part about applying for reregistration have been complied with; and 25
 - (b) on and from the date of reregistration stated in the certificate, the society is reregistered and incorporated under this Act.
- (4) The 1908 Act or Part 2 of the 1957 Act, as the case may be, ceases to apply to an existing society on its reregistration under this Act. 30

8 Existing society may amend its rules to facilitate reregistration

- (1) This clause applies—
 - (a) to the rules of an existing society; and
 - (b) despite anything to the contrary in the rules or in any enactment, rule of law, or agreement, including anything relating to the consent of any person to the making of amendments to the rules. 35
- (2) The existing society may, subject to subclauses (3) to (5), amend its rules in any manner that is necessary or desirable to ensure, or in connection with ensuring, that the rules will comply with the requirements of this Act relating to the constitution of a society.

- (3) Every amendment of an existing society’s rules must be—
 - (a) in writing; and
 - (b) approved at a general meeting of the society by a majority vote of those members entitled to vote and voting on the question; and 5
 - (c) signed by at least 2 members of the society.
- (4) A society must ensure that a copy of an amendment of its rules and of the rules as amended is given to the Registrar within 20 working days after the amendment is approved at the general meeting. 10
- (5) The copy of the amendment and of the rules as amended must be accompanied by a certificate from an officer certifying that—
 - (a) the officer is authorised by the society to give the certificate; and
 - (b) the amendment was made in accordance with subclauses (2) and (3); and 15

- (6) Section 21(3) to (5) of the 1908 Act applies with all necessary modifications, in relation to an existing society that is incorporated under that Act, to an amendment made under this clause as if an amendment made under this clause were an alteration that has been duly made under that section. 20
- (7) In this clause, Registrar means the Registrar of Incorporated Societies under the 1908 Act.

9 Consequences of reregistering existing society under this Act

- (1) An existing society that is reregistered as a society under this Act continues as the same legal entity. 25
- (2) In particular, the reregistration of the existing society does not—
 - (a) create a new legal entity; or
 - (b) prejudice or affect the identity of the body corporate constituted by the existing society or its continuity as a legal entity; or 30
 - (c) affect the property, rights, or obligations of the existing society; or
 - (d) affect proceedings by or against the existing society.
- (3) Subclause (2)(c) is subject to the rights or obligations conferred or imposed on the existing society by or under this Act or its constitution.
- (4) Proceedings that could have been commenced or continued by or against the existing society before it reregisters as a society under this Act may be commenced or continued by or against the existing society after it is reregistered. 35

- (5) Neither the reregistration of the existing society nor anything in or effected by, or done under, this Part—
- (a) places any person in breach of, or otherwise in default under, an enactment, an instrument, a confidence, a trust, or any other rule of law or equity, or makes any person liable for a civil wrong; or 5
 - (b) entitles any person—
 - (i) to require the payment or performance of a liability or an obligation that does not otherwise arise for payment or performance; or
 - (ii) to exercise a right that does not otherwise become exercisable; or
 - (iii) to deny a liability or an obligation that the person is not otherwise entitled to deny; or 10
 - (c) invalidates or discharges an instrument or any provision of an instrument; or
 - (d) releases a surety from a liability or an obligation.
- (6) In this clause, instrument includes any contract, deed, or other document. 15
- 10 Consequences of not reregistering existing incorporated society under this Act
- (1) This clause applies to an existing society that is incorporated under the 1908 Act.
- (2) If the existing society has not reregistered under this Act before the transition date,— 20
- (a) the existing society ceases to exist at the start of the transition date; and
 - (b) this Act applies, with all necessary modifications, as if the existing society had been removed from the register at the start of the transition date.
- (3) Despite subclause (2), if an application for the reregistration of the existing society is received by the Registrar before the transition date but that application has not been finally determined before that date, the following applies: 25
- (a) the Registrar must continue to deal with the application as if it were made before that date:
 - (b) the society continues to be incorporated under the 1908 Act until— 30
 - (i) the date of reregistration under this Act; or
 - (ii) 28 working days after the date on which the Registrar notifies the society that the Registrar has made a final decision to refuse to reregister the society (without giving any further opportunity to address the grounds for refusal); or 35
 - (iii) the expiry of any further time allowed by a court to allow an appeal against the Registrar’s decision (where the court gives an order allowing the further time before the expiry of the 28 working days referred to in paragraph (b)(ii) or before the expiry of any previous extension of the time allowed by a court):

- (c) if the society is not reregistered,—
 - (i) the society ceases to exist on the later of the dates referred to in paragraph (b)(ii) and (iii); and 5
 - (ii) this Act applies, with all necessary modifications, as if the existing society had been removed from the register at the start of that date.
- (4) The consequences of subclauses (2)(b) and (3)(c)(ii) include the following:
 - (a) the existing society may be restored to the register under sections 177 to 183: 10
 - (b) subpart 5 of Part 5 applies.
- (5) However, if an existing society to which subclause (2)(b) or (3)(c)(ii) applies is a racing club within the meaning of section 5(1) of the Racing Industry Act 2020, section 24 of the Racing Industry Act 2020 applies instead of sections 208 to 215 of this Act. 15
- (6) In addition to the grounds for restoration under section 178, the Registrar may, on the application made in the manner prescribed by the regulations, also restore an existing society to the register under sections 177 to 183 if the Registrar is satisfied that there is a proper reason for the society to continue to exist. 20
- (7) This clause is subject to clauses 12 and 13.

11 Registrar may give directions to facilitate transition

- (1) The Registrar may, at any time before an existing society reregisters under this Act, give a direction under this clause if it appears to the Registrar that— 25
 - (a) the constitution of an existing society does not comply with the requirements of this Act; or
 - (b) 1 or more of the officers of an existing society are disqualified from being appointed or holding office as an officer of the society under section 42; or 30
 - (c) it is otherwise necessary or desirable to give a direction in order to facilitate the transition of the society to being a society in respect of which the requirements of this Act are fully complied with.
- (2) The Registrar may give 1 or more of the following directions:
 - (a) a direction requiring that the constitution be amended in order to ensure that it complies with the requirements of this Act: 35
 - (b) a direction that a person who is disqualified as referred to in subclause (1)(b)—

- (i) ceases to be an officer of the society on a date specified in the direction; or
- (ii) must be removed from being an officer of the society:
- (c) a direction concerning the process for amending the constitution or removing an officer (for example, the direction may provide for an amendment to be approved by the committee without seeking any further approval from the members, or may require an amendment to be approved by the members): 5
- (d) any other direction that is necessary or desirable in order to facilitate the transition of the society to being a society in respect of which the requirements of this Act are fully complied with. 10
- (3) An amendment to a constitution, the removal of an officer, or any other action taken in accordance with the direction must be treated as being effective and binding on the existing society, its members, and any other person.
- (4) Subclause (3) applies despite anything to the contrary in the society's rules or in any enactment, rule of law, or agreement, including anything relating to the consent of any person to the making of amendments to the constitution or to the removal of an officer. 15
- 12 Former law continues to apply to existing dissolutions and liquidations
- The 1908 Act, as in force immediately before the commencement of this clause, continues to apply in respect of every dissolution or liquidation of a society incorporated under that Act that commenced before the transition date. 20
- 13 Existing societies that have been dissolved or put into liquidation
- (1) This clause applies to an existing society if—
- (a) the existing society had previously been dissolved under the 1908 Act but, after the transition date, the dissolution is revoked under section 28 of the 1908 Act (as continued in effect by clause 12); or 25
- (b) the existing society had been in liquidation under the 1908 Act but, after the transition date, the existing society ceases to be in liquidation under sections 24 to 27 of the 1908 Act (as continued in effect by clause 12). 30
- (2) The Registrar may give a notice to the society that extends the application of clause 5 (and, if applicable, modifies the application of clause 10) to give the society a reasonable opportunity to reregister as a society under this Act.
- (3) The extension (and modification) are subject to any terms and conditions that the Registrar thinks fit (being terms and conditions specified in the notice). 35

Part 2

Other transitional provisions

14 Incorporated branches and groups of branches

- (2) Sections 6 and 7 of the Incorporated Societies Amendment Act 1920 continue to apply to the branch or group of branches and to the parent society with all necessary modifications for the purposes of this Act as if those provisions were still in force. 10
- (3) However, subclause (2) ceases to apply if the Registrar receives a notice, in the manner prescribed by the regulations, for the purposes of this subclause from both—
- (a) the parent society; and
 - (b) the branch or group. 15
- (4) In this clause, parent society means the society in respect of which the branch or group of branches was incorporated under the Incorporated Societies Amendment Act 1920.
